

Thief 2

Name: _____ Date: _____

You are not the thief everyone is looking for, but you wanted to be. You are Jon's best friend and for a while now you have been very concerned with Jon's obsession with celebrity gossip, bad films, and worse, music. In an effort to cure him, you were going to swipe his video iPod. In fact, you even distracted him, causing him to leave the iPod on a table. But when you went to take it, someone had beaten you to it.

You now have a secret ally, but you don't want Jon to lose his iPod. Therefore, you also want to find it from his thief. However, you don't want to be accused of taking the iPod.

Over the past few days you have done a number of things to arouse suspicion that you may be the thief.

- You have asked Jon about K-fed a lot lately.
- You were looking through the iPod during class and were caught by Jon.
- You have talked to people before about Jon's iPod, and you sit next to where Jon laid the iPod.

Despite the suspicions and the possibility that you may get caught, you cannot lie when being interviewed. You must also play along and ask your questions to your chosen people. Remember, you want to find the thief and you don't want to be accused.

P.S. There is another person in the room who secretly thinks you took the iPod and he or she may start raising the alarm bell.
